Reds Display Artillery Might Near Quemoy

Brush Off Kennedy's Call for No Force In Formosa Strait

TOKYO (AP)—Red China today brushed off President Kennedy's call for a mutual renunciation of force in the Formosa Strait after defiantly firing its most powerful display of artillery power in 13 years within sight of the Nationalist off-shore island of Quemoy.

The official New China news agency, which speaks for the Peiping regime, described Kennedy's call for renouncing force as a desire "to see the Chinese people renounce their right to liberate their own territory of Taiwan (Formosa)."

Red China has repeatedly rejected a no-force agreement, first preferred by President Eisenhower. The Communists claim that the question of Formosa is an internal affair and that they cannot be restrained by an international agreement from taking steps against President Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime.

The Communist news agency made plain this position has not changed. It said the Peiping press reported Kennedy's statements at his news conference Wednesday "under headlines pointing out that this reveals anew the cunning and craftiness of U.S. imperialism."

At his news conference, Kennedy directed words of warning at Peiping while commenting on the Red Chinese military buildup opposite the Nationalist off-shore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

"The United States will take the action necessary to assure the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores," Kennedy declared. But he also said a 1954 agreement binding the Nationalists not to move against Red China without U.S. agreement is still in force.

"I have indicated that our interests in this area is defensive, and we would like to have a renunciation of the use of force," Kennedy said. The United States also reportedly told Chiang's government that it flatly opposes its threats of attacks on the Communists.

The Peiping press, however, emphasized what it called Kennedy's intimidating tone and reports of the departure of several U.S. warships from Japan for the Formosa Strait "at the very time the Chiang Kai-shek gang is feverishly preparing to invade the mainland."

Marshal Chu Teh, creator of the Red army and one of Red China's top four leaders, warned Friday night that "the entire armed forces and people of our country are keeping a close watch on the enemy's moves. Any military adventure of the enemy is sure to meet with complete failure."

As Chu Teh spoke, Communist troops in Fukien Province opposite Quemoy were engaged in their biggest artillery practice since the Reds won the mainland.

President Greeted Warmly

Kennedy, Mexican Leaders Resume Hemisphere Talks

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Kennedy, heartened by the mightiest public tribute ever paid him in a foreign capital, resumes probing talks today with Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

There is every indication that the subject of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuban regime and its alliance with communism came up in their first round of talks Friday.

The enthusiastic public outpouring to greet the President—officials estimated a million and a half Mexicans massed to cheer him—could strengthen Kennedy's hand in his search for common ground with the Mexican government on the mass of political, economic and social problems plaguing turbulent and restless Latin America.

The impact of the visit was not confined to this capital of 5½ million. Reports from around the nation of 36 million indicated that radio and television coverage of the spectacular first day of the visit was followed avidly in Mexican cities, towns and hamlets.

The dramatic display by the citizens of Mexico City could serve the U.S. president as a powerful argument in favor of some sort of common front against the Communist-Castroist attack being mounted all over the hemisphere.

After a gruelling first-day schedule which included three public speeches, a state luncheon, a City Hall ceremony, an appearance at the Mexican Folklore Ballet and private talks with the Mexican president sandwiched in, Kennedy faced another taxing schedule today including a huddle with the Mexican president.

The two planned to devote an hour and a half to this meeting, which was likely to take up new questions relating to the Alliance for Progress and Mexico's role in it, and a variety of economic and other questions involving the United States and Mexico.

A communique on the results of their talks was promised.

Algerians Vote On Freedom

Approval Expected To End 7½-Yr. War

ALGIERS (AP) — Algeria's Moslems prepared today to crown their bloody 7½-year struggle against France with a sweeping approval of independence in Sunday's referendum. Even Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged Europeans to vote "yes."

Six million Algerian voters will go to an estimated 6,500 polling places to answer just one question: "Do you want Algeria to become an independent state in cooperation with France?" Some predicted the "yes" vote might be as high as 99 per cent.

Triumphant Moslems chanted nationalist slogans and plastered walls with posters throughout Algeria in a campaign to get out the vote. Moslem nationalist agents in distant villages organized owners of trucks and ram-

Churchill In Good Shape, Doctors Say

LONDON (AP)—A hospital report said today Sir Winston Churchill, 87, spent a comfortable night after an operation to fix his broken thigh bone. The report added that he slept well.

Philip H. Newman, senior orthopaedic consultant at the Middlesex Hospital and one of the men who performed the operation, answered the question the world was asking when he left for home Friday night.

"The old man is all right," he said. Britons also took comfort from the fact that although a room was reported prepared at the hospital for Lady Churchill to be near her husband, she spent the night at their home in Hyde Park Gate.

The wartime prime minister was reported to have fallen into a sound natural sleep after the 90-minute operation. Steel pins were run through the fractured ends of the bone, near the left hip, to hold them together.

A bulletin said the operation was successful and Churchill's condition was "satisfactory."

Churchill broke his thigh-bone in a fall in his hotel room at Monte Carlo Thursday morning shortly after he arrived on the Riviera for a vacation. He was taken to the Princess Grace Hospital there and was flown home to London Friday.

Chances for Senate Passage Termed Good

Private Insurance Policies Included In Proposed Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bipartisan plan for giving health care to the aged through Social Security financing has been unveiled in the Senate and appears to have a good chance of passing.

And Democratic whip Hubert H. Humphrey predicted that there was a possibility it would clear the House this year, too.

"A good, big Senate vote would give it impetus in the House," said the Minnesota senator.

The administration's health care plan has been bottled up in the House Ways and Means Committee, a majority of whose members appear to be against any Social Security health plan.

The new compromise picked up support of five Republicans as soon as it was explained to the Senate Friday by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M. He described it as the product of weeks of negotiations to gather bipartisan backing.

It contains the same benefits as the Kennedy measure but would also cover persons not under Social Security and would bring in private health insurance policies. The only other time the Senate voted on a Social Security health insurance plan was in 1960 when it was defeated 51-44, with only one Republican supporting it.

The Senate is to begin debating the issue—one of the most important of the 1962 session—on Monday.

Anderson's proposal will be offered as an amendment to a House-passed public welfare bill. Anderson, who has been carrying the ball in the Senate for the President on the explosive health care issue, won his Republican backing largely because he agreed to write in an option feature covering private health insurance policies.

Thus, a person reaching 65 could elect to have his benefits handled by the Social Security Administration; but he also could elect to continue with a private insurance plan if it gave him at least the same benefits as the basic Social Security package.

If he took the option and needed hospitalization or other services, the Social Security Administration would reimburse his company for the cost of the payments, plus administrative costs.

Other key points of the compromise:

1. It would be financed by an increase in Social Security payroll taxes.

2. Its benefits are identical to those in the administration bill—hospitalization, nursing home

Israel Expected To Return Soblen

JERUSALEM, Israeli Section (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Soblen remained under guard in a hospital ward today while signs multiplied that the Israel government would speedily deport the Soviet spy sentenced to life imprisonment in the United States.

Soblen jumped bail in New York Tuesday and fled to Israel to seek asylum. But authoritative sources said the Israeli government is not willing to grant the 62-year-old Jewish psychiatrist a visa that would permit him to remain, either as a short-term visitor or as a settler.

Every Jew has the legal right to settle in Israel, but the government has the right to expel undesirable. Interior Minister Y. C. Shapira has authority to deport persons with criminal records. In

GOP Officials Meet With Ike

Organization of Conference Planned

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — GOP officials from throughout the country rally around former President Dwight D. Eisenhower today to form an all-Republican conference.

But the party's congressional leaders waited to see the plan unwrapped and working before buying.

National Chairman William E. Miller billed the circus tent meeting at Eisenhower's farm as one aimed at demonstrating that Republicans can provide the new leadership he said the nation needs.

While they had no quarrel with this concept, the party's Senate and House chieftains said they did not know how the proposed conference would operate. Nor would they try to estimate the influence it might have on the Republican congressional policies the leaders have assumed responsibility for making.

Miller has said the new group would not pass on issues before Congress but would interpret state, national and international trends, giving Republicans out of Congress a forum.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told a news conference in Washington Friday that "all I know about this is what I see in the papers."

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana made it rather apparent the congressional quarterbacks would not relish having any group outside of Congress interfere in their signal calling.

"We can use all of the help we can get," he said. "We'll be glad to have it. But I think we've been doing all right."

Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, now the GOP nominee for governor of California, had top billing among a long list of speakers.

Govs. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire, Norman A. Erbe of Iowa and Robert E. Smylie of Idaho were billed as conference speakers.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York has two speaking commitments in upstate New York today and is passing up the Gettysburg session. In Albany, an aide to the governor said he spoke to Eisenhower by telephone, conveying regrets that he will be unable to attend.

Attendance was down slightly from last year in the Salem summer playground program which completed the first week of an eight-week session Friday.

Total registration for the week at the six playgrounds was 746, a decrease of 77 participants from the 823 who took part in the program during the first week last year.

Average daily attendance at the playgrounds for the first week was 396.6, compared to 425 in 1961.

First week registrations at each playground with 1961 figures in parentheses are as follows:

Pay TV Gets Enthusiastic OK In Test

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Television for a fee but without commercials met with an enthusiastic reception in the Hartford area.

Viewers paid $1 to see two movies without interruptions in the nation's first large-scale test of pay-television Friday night. The consensus was it was worth it.

Neither film had been shown before on television in this area.

"I've been agitating for it for years," said G. Harry Davis of nearby Avon. Davis, an executive of the Dictaphone Corp., said he applied to be among the initial 200 subscribers as soon as he heard that the test would be run by WHCT, an ultrahigh frequency television station here.

Friday night's program consisted of "Sunrise at Campobello," a dramatization of an episode in the life of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt; and

Reduction of U.S. Troops In Europe Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States probably will withdraw about 7,500 Army troops from Europe this summer, informed sources said today.

This would be the first reduction of U.S. strength there since the Berlin crisis military buildup last fall.

The men to be pulled back would be support troops—quartermaster, signal, ordnance and the like.

Thus, there would be no weakening of U.S. combat-type forces, arrayed mostly in Germany.

At the height of the Berlin crisis, when Russia was threatening to force a decision on control of the divided German city, the United States sent 40,000 support troops to reinforce the 7th Army in Germany.

I was understood the 7,500 men to be brought home would come out of that 40,000.

Sources indicated the home-ward movement of these men, in some 40 units, might start next month and continue into September.

Civilians would be expected to take over much of the supply and logistical work now handled by returning troops.

A major factor was understood to be an administration desire to reduce dollar spending in Europe. Native civilians working for the U.S. armed forces there are paid in local currency, chiefly out of counterpart funds deposited to this country's credit as a result of aid programs.

The United States now has about 272,000 men on station in Europe. About 137,000 are fighting troops, the remaining 135,000 are in support.

Mediator Joins Lisbon Firm Parley

Talks Under Way In Thomas Plant Dispute

LISBON — Union representatives, company officials and a federal mediator are meeting this morning in the offices of the Thomas Works of the H. K. Porter Co., in an effort to avert a strike at the plant set for mid-night today when the three-year union contract will expire.

c'mon... put it over the plate

You are witnessing one of the frustrations in Ted's life. Like his namesake, the Red Sox slugger, Ted likes to tag a good fast ball and send it over the fence. But, today, our batting-practice pitcher just can't seem to find the plate.

Another frustration in Ted's life will occur next Sunday morning. Like every American youngster Ted needs religious training. But Ted's parents, who should be offering him opportunity and encouragement in spiritual growth, can't seem to find the Church.

Our children deserve the full spiritual opportunity which our free heritage has preserved for them. Today it is their turn to develop the power with which God endowed them. And our assignment, like the batting-practice pitcher's, is to offer them our best... and not lost control.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Right Problem, Wrong Solution

Judge Henry A. Riederer of Kansas City, president of the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges, made an eloquent plea the other day for creation of a cabinet-level federal department of youth and family affairs.

Reading through a news report of his remarks, we found ourselves mentally shouting "hurrah" for his salient outline of juvenile problems but wound up in the paradoxical position of questioning the validity of his solution.

Judge Riederer cited the magnitude of the problem of juvenile delinquency and dependency as only a judge who views these problems daily in court can. He predicted four million children would enter the nation's juvenile courts before 1970.

HE EXPRESSED his belief that the need is not for more laws on the subject but more respect for laws already in existence.

He said the complexity of the problem "is compounded by an adult society which refuses to see itself mirrored in today's children."

He declared he and his fellow judges are "baffled by what appears to be an unbroken pattern of dependency, neglect and delinquency handed down from one generation to another."

He said the "plain facts are that our homes and schools, which should be the bulwarks of prevention, are in many instances breeding grounds for new generations of delinquency-prone children."

He said we must pass on to our progeny old-fashioned strengths and virtues which have served our society well and can continue to do so.

With all these points we agree. What we cannot agree with is that the creation of a federal department of youth and family affairs would accomplish the desired ends by solving the deplorable problems.

Judge Riederer suggests a federal department would provide an over-all guidance now lacking. He believes an executive order combining existing federal agencies into a cabinet-level department would be the answer.

But he also concedes the existing agencies have not provided spectacular leadership in the field. Whether they would be able to offer better leadership under single direction is open to question.

IT IS ENTIRELY POSSIBLE that the creation of such a department might further weaken efforts to solve the basic problems of dependency, neglect and delinquency by encouraging the dependency of school and home on the federal agency. What is sorely needed is a new willingness on the part of the school and the home, especially the latter, to accept its responsibilities in teaching new generations the old-fashioned moral and social virtues.

In this regard, it seems to us the nation's juvenile judges themselves, sitting in each local community and acutely aware of each community's weaknesses in dealing with its youth, could be an infinitely more powerful force on local and state governments for instilling this sense of responsibility than a federal agency could be.

There is no doubt Judge Riederer and his colleagues are sincerely interested in halting the individual and social tragedies of juvenile dependency and delinquency. That is why it was disappointing to find him advocating the trite proposal of a federal department of youth to do the job.

Khrushchev Changes His Boast

Within the scope of recent memory Nikita Khrushchev was boasting the communists would outproduce U.S. agriculture in the foreseeable future. Now he has changed his tune: He predicts the communists will outproduce U.S. industry in the next decade.

One reason for the switch in boasts is the miserable failure of communist agriculture this year wherever communist states exist. Collectivization in farm operations never has worked well for the Reds, but the most disastrous collapse of all could not have come at a worse time for Khrushchev in terms of his propaganda war.

Like a professional politico, therefore, he seeks to divert attention from the ludicrous farm boast by talking about some other realm of economic competition.

But here is another reason for his optimistic prediction in the heart of Russia's steel-producing region. Khrushchev is worried about the growing economic strength of the West in general and the European Common Market in particular. So are his colleagues in the satellite countries of eastern Europe.

Promotion Earned

George Perrault's advancement to the position of executive vice-president of the E. W. Bliss Company is a promotion earned.

A dynamo of energy, George has worked hard and used good judgment in sales and managerial capacities to keep Bliss' rolling mill division here humming and growing. He now steps up from vice-president in charge of the local Heavy Equipment Division to second in command at the company's main office in Canton. The articulate industrialist always has found time to participate in community activities, too. We hope that his promotion won't mean his removal from Salem but if he finds it necessary to move to Canton that city will have gained a staunch citizen.

Man of Mystery

By Fred B. Stauffer

What are Howard Hughes' specific aims in the aviation industry? This question has come into sharp focus with twin regulatory decisions giving the multi-millionaire industrialist the right to own both Northeast Airlines and Trans World Airlines.

Only partial, and partly guesswork, answers can be given to the aviation question. Answers to the personality question must be based almost solely on the known business record as modified and illuminated by second-hand glimpses of a nearly legendary figure.

The Civil Aeronautics Board and Securities and Exchange Commission decisions permitted Mr. Hughes to add 56 per cent stock control of Northeast to the 78 per cent of TWA stock held by Hughes Tool Co., solely owned by Mr. Hughes.

But will there be a merger of the two airlines? Mr. Hughes has indicated merger is an ultimate objective, but there are numerous stumbling blocks, apart from CAB approval.

Perhaps the most difficult obstacle to such a move is the fact that Mr. Hughes' voting control of the TWA stock is lodged in a three-man, 10-year trusteeship created in 1960.

Hughes Tool is seeking in the courts to recover actual voting control of TWA and put Mr. Hughes back in the saddle he occupied from 1939 to 1960. At the same time TWA seeks a court order to have Hughes Tool divest itself of the airline stock.

These suits involve damage claims and counter claims running into hundreds of millions of dollars, but the basic issue clearly is that of who will run TWA.

If it's Mr. Hughes, then a move to unite the 50,000-mile international carrier with 3,200-mile Northeast can be expected. But if

The West is not without its economic problems, some of them created by the success of the Common Market, which has surpassed the expectations even of its original planners. The United States itself is becoming increasingly aware of its stake in those problems, and debate over the proper solution of the problems may give Khrushchev temporary satisfaction.

But more immediately important to the Kremlin and its communist-bloc associates is the challenge posed to the whole Red ideology by the vast and rapid changes taking place in the world's economy.

With the agriculture failures and the long history of communist failure to achieve its total industrial goals to guide him, Khrushchev must realize that discouragement and apathy could quickly overtake his communist domain, especially among the satellites filled with unhappy subjects, and depress even more the will to win the economic fight against the free world.

The Romanian boast, therefore, was probably no more than just that—a pep talk to bolster the spirits of downcast comrades.

They will need more than pep talks, however, to make his boast come true.

Modern Air Terminals

District residents who may have missed out on last weekend's dedication of the greatly expanded Canton-Akron airport will find it to their enjoyment to visit the port and inspect the new facilities any day this summer.

The modern airport there and the Youngstown port at Vienna are indispensable to this growing northeastern Ohio district in an era when plane travel is as common as horse and buggies were years ago.

Good highways provide speedy access to both airports—Canton-Akron due west, and Vienna due north. Take your pick.

Hughes should all in the TWA effort, the non-Hughes management of TWA might well spurn the New England carrier as a partner, as it did in 1960.

Also vital to the merger question is the problem of Northeast's routes from New England to Florida, now up for renewal in an undecided case. Without such routes it might be deemed undesirable to add Northeast to TWA's domestic network.

The key figure in this welter of high finance before and since TWA, is Howard Hughes Jr., now 56. He inherited, before he was 21, a large interest in Hughes Tool founded by his father. Hughes Tool's primary concern was, and still is, the making of oil-drilling equipment, but when the younger Hughes took over in 1924 the size of the company was many millions away from the present estimated total assets of $293 million.

From the operations of this company, solely owned, Mr. Hughes has been able to many millions yearly to finance other ventures in such diverse areas as motion pictures, aircraft manufacture, and even brewing. Success followed success in most of the other ventures and his personal fortune has grown to an estimated $400 million more.

For a time Mr. Hughes flashed across the movie world with a series of spectacular and expensive films. He also retained an early interest in active aviation and achieved a record shattering round-the-world flight in 1939.

In those days he was much in the public eye, although direct press contacts appear to have been limited. In later years as he retired more and more from public view, there arose a "may-of-mystery" sort of legend which Mr. Hughes has done little to dispel out of his own mouth or the words of associates.

A Light In the Forest

Japan's War Legacy

By JACK RUSSELL

TOKYO

Some 5,000 children—the legacy of occupation and war—are rapidly reaching adulthood in a nation where they are taunted and rejected.

These are the "GI" babies, Eurasian or Afro-Asian, who are both illegitimate and "different." In Japan, they are politely called "mixed bloods" but on the streets, they are often addressed as "hello babies" from the traditional greeting of prostitutes.

They are the children of Japanese girls and foreign soldiers—mainly American but also English, Canadian and Australian who were the troops of the Allied occupation, which ended 10 years ago, or the combat soldiers of the Korean War.

The oldest of these children graduated from school this year and now are either going on to higher education or looking for jobs.

A JAPANESE representative of the International Social Service, a worldwide welfare agency, said these children were "marked" from birth by the "double stigma of being illegitimate and different."

"Most of them also carry the added burden of poverty," he said.

"They look different—some even with blond hair and they face an uncertain future in Japan."

He admitted that many Japanese employers because of prejudice will not hire these youths and, that they will meet further social prejudices when they reach marriageable age.

"We are particularly worried about the girls who will find it extremely difficult," he said.

Window on Russia

By MARK FRANKLAND

MOSCOW

An aspect of the Soviet Union's external relations that seldom gets much publicity is the constant—though still small—flow of academic, scientific and cultural contacts with the West.

Yet it is in these contacts and their development that some Western observers here see the best hope of gradually normalizing Russia's relations with the non-Communist world.

In this respect, an important place to watch is a small town on the Volga some 80 miles from Moscow called Dubna. Dubna is the home of the Joint Institute for Nuclear Research. Set up in 1956, it is an international research organization concerned only with the peaceful study of nuclear physics.

At the moment the member states which take part in and finance the institute's work are all Socialist-bloc countries, among China, North Korea and North Viet Nam.

However, contracts with non-Socialist countries are increasing and the institute has been visited by many of the West's most eminent scientists. More important, information is exchanged with research institutes abroad and since 1960 there has been a personnel exchange program with CERN (the European organization for nuclear research) which has its headquarters at Geneva.

AT PRESENT there are only two CERN scientists at Dubna, one from West Germany and the other from Britain. All the work going on at Dubna is open to them.

Although a year spent there does not necessarily mean that a Western scientist will go away with a lot of new knowledge, there does seem to be great awareness that this is a unique chance to help speed up the exchange of information on nuclear research with Soviet scientists.

This is not to say that there is always less awareness of the importance of this on the Soviet side. Dubna's director, Prof. D. I. Blokhin recently pointed out to a group of visiting journalists that the cost of new equipment for nuclear research such as an accelerator is so vast that coordination between nuclear physicists throughout the world is essential.

At the moment, however, the cooperation at Dubna is chiefly between scientists from Socialist-bloc countries, and the scientific budget of more than one million rubles a year is supplied in proportion by these countries, the Soviet Union paying 47 per cent, China 20 per cent and so on. There are 70 Chinese at Dubna. Similarly, Dubna is governed by an administrative and scientific council, both international in composition. There are 400 scientists studying there, half of them from the bloc countries.

There are five laboratories: nuclear problems, high energies, neutron physics, theoretical physics and nuclear reactions.

Each laboratory has on average about 250 scientific workers, except for the high energies laboratory which has some 900 people.

The living conditions give some idea of the direct and indirect material incentives offered important scientific workers in the Soviet Union.

A young scientist starting at Dubna receives from 150 to 200 rubles a month. (A ruble, introduced Jan. 1, 1961, was officially valued at $1.11 in U.S. currency.)

The top salary of a Moscow secondary school teacher is about 150 rubles a month. A senior scientist earns around 600 rubles a month.

PERHAPS more important in a country still suffering from a shortage of living space, housing conditions are good. Rent—as for all Soviet citizens—is very low. Russians who have visited Dubna stress another advantage—the shops are well-stocked.

Dubna was created out of nothing in 1947 when the Academy of Sciences decided to set up the Nuclear Research Institute; that was later handed by the Soviet government to the International Joint Institute.

It came as a surprise to see that part of the illumination was provided by fussy, gilded lamp brackets of the kind seen in old-fashioned Moscow hotels. Such a contrast tells one a lot about the strict choice of priorities the Soviet Union has still to make. Modern light fittings are an incidental luxury that for the present, must be ignored.

The International Social Service office in Japan has been responsible for the adoption of about 650 of the 4,000 of these children who have left Japan for foster mothers and fathers in the United States, Canada and Europe. The ISS official said that there was a need for further adoptions of many children, particularly in the 9 to 14 years of age group.

About 500 of these children are in orphanages but the majority are being reared by their Japanese mothers or relatives.

Most of these children must remain in Japan and adjust as best they can.

The ISS official said that these children are offered advice, sympathy and counseling but he admitted that ISS lacked the money to help them in their education and later in job training in specialized skills where their chances of employment will be better.

The ISS representative said that some need help badly while others amazingly enough have made adjustments despite jeers and prejudice.

He said a girl, whose father was an American Negro is "doing well in high school and is loved by her teachers and other students."

"Occasionally, she is teased by boys because of her origin and dark skin," he said, "but she accepts this and has confidence that her American father, who still keeps contact, will some day return."

THE ISS representative said the father, who is in the Army, has written he still intends to marry the girl's mother when he can get a divorce from his American wife.

But he pointed out that not all the children make such easy adjustments.

He said that one Eurasian boy at birth was sent by his Japanese mother to live with her parents in rural Japan. The grandfather, who loved the child, so feared that he would be hurt by insults, that he kept him locked in the home or yard for four years.

"Later, he was sent to an institution at the age of five, mentally and emotionally retarded," he said. "He contracted TB but ran away from a convalescent home because the older children derided him for being a GI baby."

Eventually, the boy was adopted by an American sergeant and his wife.

The ISS official said many months went by before the boy learned to love again, and throughout it all, he insisted that he was "only Japanese."

It took him one year to say: "I am both Japanese and American."

Tax Change Would Burden U. S. Trade

Millions of speeches, statements and messages have been made and billions of dollars spent in the years since the war to further the revival of free nations.

Our national purpose was directed to the end that Communism might not grow in those countries and that free enterprise might prevail in the free world.

Over-all, the United States dedicated itself to the task of winning the war of trade.

Thus, it is strange indeed that President Kennedy and his supporters in Congress should reverse this policy by proposing a tax change which will heavily burden American competition with the trade of Communist countries in the world market.

It also would withdraw American investment from free nations. This proposal is embodied in Section 13 in the hastily prepared and ill-considered 1962 tax bill.

This section would impose a federal tax on the undistributed profits of foreign corporations in which Americans have heavy investments.

In what follows, I am speaking of operational, rather than holding companies. The problems of each are quite different.

SOME PROFITS of these companies are retained because of the need for constant expansion into new markets and to maintain equipment and product quality in the face of heavy competition from the rapidly recovering economies of the free world.

These subsidiaries, it should be understood, do not compete with our own industries, but with foreign producers, including those of Iron Curtain nations. Nor do they deny jobs to American workers.

These companies are in no sense tax havens. They were established with government approval and encouragement for the legitimate purpose of making a profit for American investors, spreading the name of the parent companies' products abroad and expanding the influence of the United States.

Their profits, when returned as dividends to investors here, are subjected to our income tax, and thus they provide revenue for our own government.

It has been made abundantly clear that the moment these undistributed earnings are made subject to the proposed U.S. tax, the governments in the countries where the companies are located will slap on a new tax to "soak up" these profits before they can be levied upon by our Treasury. Thus, the new tax would produce little or nothing for the United States.

The finance ministers of the six Common Market countries no doubt had this in mind when they made known to Treasury wouldn't look with disfavor upon the proposed American tax. But Dillon quoted them to Congress for the fantastic purpose of supporting the bill.

NOW DILLON really ought to know more than he seems to know. For he spent four years in France as our ambassador, and a year as under secretary of state in charge of economic affairs.

How, therefore, could he be so naive as to believe that the finance ministers of European countries would offer any advice that is not in the interest of their own treasuries?

It is right that they protect the interests of their countries. In fact, Dillon ought to be equally vigilant in protecting the interests of his own country, and so should the President.

The net result of such a tax would be to discourage American ventures abroad. Republican House members such as Curtis of Missouri and Byrnes of Wisconsin have pointed out that the bill says "Yankee come home."

Thus, it is strange that this proposal comes from an administration which is making such an appeal for more foreign trade, for this is a proposal to discourage American enterprise abroad.

It is completely inconsistent with the Kennedy trade bill. It is benighted isolationism.

Alarm In Japan

By JACK RUSSELL

Basically conservative Japan is showing new alarm that its black-uniformed college students are being drilled in revolutionary doctrines.

Recently, newspaper articles disclosed that a new, organized attempt by the Communist party is being made to seize control of the already far-left Zengakuren student organization.

In a call for reform of the administration of state universities, Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda of the ruling conservative Liberal Democratic party asked: "From university on down is not education being taken advantage of as a tool for revolution?"

He advocated moral as well as technical education and the instilling in youth a pride in being Japanese.

THE PRIME MINISTER made stricter control over universities an issue in the current political campaign for the Upper House elections. His opponents accuse the conservative government of "attempting to destroy academic freedom."

But the Ministry of Education reportedly also is questioning to what extent university professors have the right to engage in political activities.

Whether or not loose administration of universities has allowed professors to preach leftist doctrines, there is no doubt but that there exists an almost solid leftist orientation among students.

An Education Ministry official pointed out that Zengakuren, which made world headlines when its riots prevented the visit to Japan of former President Eisenhower in June 1960, has now 300,000 members—nearly half the college enrollment.

According to this official, Zengakuren is now composed of "six currents" or political factions ranging from hard-core Communists and "trotskyites" to Socialists.

He admitted that there were no young conservatives on campus because "most students think the Liberal Democratic party, the party supported by the majority of Japanese, is rightist—allegedly from the prewar days of military dictatorship."

The Education Ministry official branded student thinking as "politically immature" and particularly attacked student demonstrations and rioting as indicating that "they do not know the proper method of expression in a democracy."

THERE HAVE been no massive demonstrations comparable to the Zengakuren street warfare of 1960—recently. But the Education Ministry official implied that "the Zengakuren monster" may be only sleeping.

"There have been no serious problems which the students think significant or important enough to stage massive demonstrations," he said.

He said that at the most only 2,000 students at any one time showed up to chant slogans and scuffle with police in protest against the U.S. nuclear tests a short time ago before the American embassy.

But he admitted that Tokyo police have been stricter in enforcing "traffic regulations" which have hampered street demonstrators and that Tokyo's snarled traffic, growing worse daily, has left little room for snake-dancing students.

The Education Ministry official said that there was "no fear" that the newly organized Minseido—a Communist student group within Zengakuren—would succeed in seizing control over the entire movement. He discounted newspaper reports that Minseido had now a membership of 70,000, stating that it had recruited only 6,000 on college campuses.

And he said that the "majority of Japanese students are anti-Communist and will oppose any attempt by the Communists to take over Zengakuren."

Pre-Nuptial Parties Fete Miss Null

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Here are a few hints to keep kiddies busy in bad weather or when they're ill and confined to the house. Get a thin, narrow stick from the scrap pile at your lumber dealers and let the youngsters copy a yardstick so they will have their own. They will learn quite a bit from working with the numbers and it keeps them busy for hours.

Mothers will know if their children are old enough for this one or not: Mix a pan of dried peas, navy beans, butter beans or any kind of beans. Let junior sit down and separate the beans to help mother!

All children like to sort buttons. Get out the button box. They can sort them according to various sizes, colors and shapes.

Many of my kettle covers were without knobs. My 12-year-old son took empty spools from my sewing machine and fixed new knobs for them.

A. P.R.

DEAR HELOISE: When making quilt pieces, use a pattern made from sandpaper. Works wonderfully. It sticks to the material and is still enough to work with.

READER

DEAR HELOISE: I keep three plastic glasses on the lower shelf of my refrigerator. They are filled with milk, water and punch. My thirsty little son can now help himself when I am busy.

I combined two hints from your readers and arrived at this conclusion: Put the baby's high-chair in the shower, turn on the shower to wash it, then wipe it dry. Then apply a light coat of liquid wax. It's absolutely miraculous! No lost time scrubbing off spaghetti and egg.

I thought the wax might not work because my chair is chrome but it does.

J. Z.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you really go barefoot? Tell me why. At the church social last week, going barefoot was the topic discussed. Some women say it makes the feet bigger but we all wonder if this is the truth.

CHURCH GUILD

Yes, I go barefoot—I am now. It seems to relax me. No cramping shoes! Sure my feet have gotten bigger. So I buy a size larger shoe! You can also do many things with bare feet. Ever had an object drop on the floor and you didn't have the energy to pick it up? Try exercising those toes. Great!

Tell your friends not to worry.

Pay TV

Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," performed by a Czechoslovakian puppet company.

The films were telecast via a scrambled signal. Subscribers had to dial a code number to activate their decoders and unscramble the picture and the sound.

People without decoders who tuned in received pictures in which the figures were still discernible but resembled reflections in a rippled pond. Instead of dialogue, they heard only a high metallic screech.

The Hartford test, scheduled to run for three years, is backed by Zenith Radio Corp., manufacturer of the decoders, and RKO General Inc., owner of WHCT-TV. They have $10 million invested in the venture.

WHCT-TV is charging $1 to $1.25 for each of the first week's movies, but the opening night charges for two movies was $1.

WHCT will carry free programs most of the time. The pay shows are scheduled for prime evening time and will take up only 30 hours a week at the start.

from the Nationalists in 1949. The Nationalist Defense Ministry in reporting the firing said no shells fell on Quemoy.

Top Nationalist Chinese military leaders were convinced, however, that the much publicized Red buildup opposite Quemoy and Matsu is only part of a major redeployment of Communist forces from north China to south and central China.

AP correspondent Forrest Edwards reported from Taipei that these military leaders base their belief on two main reasons:

(1) The center of Asian unrest has shifted from Korea and Japan to Southeast Asia and deployment to the south puts the Reds in position closer to troubled Laos and war-torn Viet Nam;

(2) The shift moves thousands of additional ground troops into south China provinces where they can be used for putting down any internal revolt. The Nationalists contend the biggest threat of an uprising against the Reds is in the south and cite the recent exodus of hungry refugees to Hong Kong and reports of riots in Kwangtung Province.

The car was traveling about 90-miles-per-hour, the Patrol reported.

Ruritan Club Meets At N. Georgetown

Twenty-one members and four guests were present at the North Georgetown Ruritan Club's meeting Thursday at the Middle Sandy Presbyterian Church in Homeworth.

Two of the guests, Rev. Wesley J. Runk of North Georgetown and Allen Walters of Beloit, were accepted as new members. The other guests were Joe Kertes of Homeworth and Gorman Stoffer of Beloit.

The next meeting will be held July 26.

Estes

Morris' testimony at a closed session Friday.

James Naughton, subcommittee counsel, also declined to say whether transcripts of Morris' testimony would be made public, or whether Morris would testify at a public hearing.

Freeman fired Morris last April 16 for refusing to answer questions about his relationships with Estes.

Morris had been an assistant to former Asst. Secretary of Agriculture James T. Ralph, also fired because of his connections with the gift-giving Texas promoter. In his appearance before the subcommittee Ralph had disclosed that he and Morris each received two $100 money orders from Estes. He said they turned the money over to the Democratic party.

There were also allegations that Morris had a list of persons who received similar money orders from Estes, including several Congressmen and a member of the administration.

In the Senate hearing Friday, a controversy swirled about a letter Charles S. Murphy, Freeman's undersecretary, wrote to the subcommittee April 20. In it Murphy declared he knew of no "substantial evidence that Estes was guilty of a criminal offense" in connection with transfers of cotton acreage allotments.

Murphy's letter was written as an explanation of why he joined other agency officials in declaring the cotton acreage deals illegal, then on the same day cleared Estes for appointment to the National Cotton Advisory Committee in the face of a staff investigator's report that Estes might face prosecution.

Murphy held that the alleged illegality of the cotton deals was a "civil legal problem, rather than a criminal one." Freeman said he was not consulted about it at the time, is convinced that Murphy made a mistake in clearing Estes, but that he believes the undersecretary acted in good faith.

Woman Fined $150 For Drunk Driving

Marjorie Ellen Davis, 27, of 339 W. 5th St., was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer this morning after she pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

She drove home where her husband noticed the front of the car had been wrecked, and he called police.

shackle cars into motor pools to transport voters to the polls.

"Everything is prepared," Moslems assured visitors to the Casbah. "Everybody will vote. Every house will become a polling station if necessary."

Despite the excitement, the balloting will be something of an anticlimax. The Moslems have known for some time that nothing can halt their country's emancipation from French rule. Independence was won in a long, bitter battle that cost the lives of early 28,000 French soldiers and more than 140,000 Moslems.

The Moslem victory was formalized in the cease-fire and independence agreement between President Charles de Gaulle's government and the Moslem nationalist at Evian, France, March 18. It was insured when the last die-hard European extremists abandoned their fight this week to keep Algeria French.

Minnesota's Rollins, SF's Cepeda Top All-Star Voting

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Rich Rollins, Minnesota's rookie third baseman and Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco's slugging first baseman, were the top vote-getters on the American and National League All-Star teams announced today following a poll conducted among the major league ball players.

Two Games Again This Year
The first of two All-Star games this summer will be played in Washington's new District of Columbia Stadium, Tuesday, July 10. The second game will be played on Monday, July 30, at Wrigley Field in Chicago. The games will start at 1 p.m. local time.

Rollins, who played only 13 big league games prior to this season, received 184 out of a possible 280 votes.

The 24-year-old Kent State University alumnus was joined on the American League infield by Jim Gentile of Baltimore at first base, Billy Moran of Los Angeles at second and Luis Aparicio of Chicago at shortstop.

Cepeda, who was selected on the 1961 All-Star team as a left-fielder, ran away from his competition in the battle for first base honors. He received 229 of the 290 votes cast.

The rest of the National League All-Star infield consisted of Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh at second, Ken Boyer of St. Louis at third and Dick Groat of Pittsburgh at shortstop.

The balloting revealed a surprising turnover from both of last year's All-Star squads. The only repeaters in the American League were the New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle in center field and Roger Maris in right. Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels won the left field spot and Earl Battey of Minnesota was named the catcher.

The National League also had just two repeaters. They were Willie Mays of San Francisco and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh. Mays was the second most popular choice, drawing 213 votes for center field to beat out Henry Aaron of Milwaukee by a wide margin. Clemente won the right field post from Felipe Alou of the Giants in the closest balloting for a position, 74 to 71 votes. Tommy Davis of Los Angeles edged out Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' all-time star, for left field, 150 votes to 95.

Del Crandall of Milwaukee, who sat out virtually all of last year with an arm ailment, earned the No. 1 catching job.

Eight Positions Selected
The balloting was only for the eight starting positions, exclusive of pitchers. Pitchers and the remainder of the National League's squad will be announced Tuesday, July 3 followed by the full American League squad four days later.

The starting eight players must play at least three innings in each of the games at Washington and Chicago unless injury necessitates a change.

The managers, Ralph Houk of the American League and Fred Hutchinson of the National, will select the remainder of the squads, including all pitchers.

The American League has won 16 All-Star games and the National 14. There has been one tie.

Only 1 U.S. Male Left In Wimbledon

By JOHN GALE
WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Frank Arthur Froehling III says a funny thing happened to him on his way through the Wimbledon Tennis championships. He reached the last 16 of the men's singles and found himself the only American left in the event.

"If anybody had told me when I came to this tournament that I would be the only American in the last 16, I'd have laughed in his face," the 6-foot-3 inch Froehling said Friday.

U. S. Tennis Will Recover
"It is incredible that this thing should have happened, but I still don't think there is anything seriously wrong with American tennis.

"In a few years time I believe the United States will take over tennis again."

Froehling is pretty young in the sport. But on the threshold of his tennis career—he has just been named to the U.S. Davis Cup squad—he throws out some shrewd ideas for a 20-year-old.

Froehling, from Coral Gables, Fla., is studying mathematics at Trinity University in San Antonio, Tex. His prediction before his fifth-round assignment today against Spain's sixth-seeded Manuel Santana—"I would say we have got about an even chance."

Women's Chances Brighter
U.S. chances are brighter in the women's singles where Victori Palmer from Phoenix, Ariz., Friday joined Billie Jean Moffitt, Karen Hantze Susman and Darlene Hard in the last 16. Miss Palmer defeated Robyn Ebbern of Australia 2-6, 6-0, 7-5 in the third round.

Wright, Ruth Jessen Lead National Open

By KEN ALTYA
MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP)—Mickey Wright and Ruth Jessen, who have dominated women's professional golf all year, carry their battle down the stretch in the National Open's last two rounds today.

They shared the 36-hole lead at 148, four strokes over par, and were paired for today's two final rounds.

They held a three-stroke edge over Mrs. Marlene Bauer Hagge, whose 151 gave her third place, a shot ahead of Barbara Romack, Mary Lena Faulk, Joann Prentice and Mrs. Muriel Lindstrom.

Miss Wright, who has won three Open titles in four years, has won three of the 11 tournaments she has played this year. She's earned $7,700, top figure among the women pros. Miss Jessen, who has won once, has been in the top three five other times while winning $6,500 in 10 tournaments.

Miss Wright, who shot 73 in Friday's second round after bogeying three of the first five holes, concedes that playing a double round over the 6,400-yard Dunes Golf and Beach Club course should work to her advantage.

League-Leaders Grab 6th Straight

League-leading Odom's improved its record to 11-2 with the Lisbon Hotel keeping a game behind with a 10-3 mark.

Racking up all of its runs in the first three innings Odom's coasted to its victory. Ronnie Shaffer socked a triple leading off the first inning and scored the first Odom's tally.

THE WINNERS CHALKED up two tallies in both the second and third frames. In the second inning Tom Ehrhart walked John Ehrhart and Wendell Hamilton singled and Shaffer doubled to account for the runs.

Jim Smith led off with a homer in the third and was followed by singles by George Alek and Marty Limpore to round out Odom's scoring.

John Sinsley socked a single for Bliss in the third canto and was brought home on a double by Bob Kekel for the losers' only run.

Shaffer with three bingles and John Ehrhart with two hits showed the way for Odom's.

Sinsley and Kekel rapped two hits each for Bliss.

The Lisbon Hotel had to come from behind three times to get past the Salem Democrats in a free-scoring battle.

WITH SALEM leading 10-7 in the last of the seventh inning, Lisbon filled the bases on an error, a walk and a fielder's choice and then John Eckstine smashed a triple to tie up the game. Guthrie socked a single to bring Eckstine in with the winning run.

Salem had built up a 4-0 lead by the third inning but the winners fought back to tie the score three times.

Pacing the 11-hit Hotel attack was Guthrie with three hits. John and Jim Eckstine followed with two safeties apiece.

Chisox Rap Perry, Edge Tribe 3-2

CHICAGO (AP)—Scoring runs against the sixth-place Chicago White Sox has come hard for the Cleveland Indians lately.

The Tribe finally broke its skein of 16 scoreless innings against the Sox Friday night, but suffered its sixth loss in nine games as Chicago parlayed five straight hits off Jim Perry in the first inning for all its runs and a 3-2 victory.

The defeat chopped a game off Cleveland's first-place lead over New York, which now trails by only half a game.

Tribe Relievers Sparkle
After Perry's quick departure, Chicago got a look at some sharp relief pitching. Frank Funk gave up only one hit in 5 1-3 innings and Bob Allen, Ruben Gomez and Gary Bell combined to permit one hit the rest of the way.

Woodie Held put Cleveland in the scoring column in the seventh with his 11th homer after John Romano singled. Bubba Phillips followed with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice, but winner Ray Herbert got pinch hitter Don Dillard to fly out and Ty Cline to ground out.

Romano, who had gone 0-for-17, collected three hits in Cleveland's eighth-inning attack.

Perry Knocked Out In 1st
Perry (6-5) lasted two-thirds of an inning and yielded Charley Maxwell's double sandwiched between singles by Joe Cunningham, Floyd Robinson, Al Smith and Jim Landis.

The game drew 33,843, Chicago's largest baseball crowd this season.

A's Fall, Red Sox' Reserve Fielder Hero; Yanks Win

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
It would be hard to convince the Kansas City A's that Lu Clinton isn't the toughest .125 hitter in baseball.

Clinton a Boston bench warmer who now caddies for the man who used to be caddy for Ted Williams, has managed only eight hits in 64 times at bat this season, but it's safe to say he's getting the maximum mileage out of them. He has driven in 13 runs.

Clinton Subs For Hardy
Clinton, an outfielder, plays only when Carroll Hardy — a former sub for the retired Ted Williams — can't. Hardy was ill Friday night so Clinton and his .087 batting average were inserted in the lineup against the A's.

He hit two home runs, including his second grand slam of the season, drove in six runs and led the struggling Red Sox to a 9-3 victory. It pulled the Red Sox to within two percentage points of the A's and cut the deficit between the first and ninth-place American League teams to eight games.

The New York Yankees clipped the Los Angeles Angels 6-3 and moved to within a half-game of the leading Cleveland Indians, 3-2 losers at Chicago. Hank Aguirre and Detroit shut out Baltimore 1-0 on three hits and Washington beat Minnesota 6-3 in 10 innings. O'Chuck Hinton's three-run homer.

Clinton hit his first homer of the evening in the sixth after Frank Malzone tripled and Pete Runnels and Jim Pagliaroni drew intentional bases on balls. That broke up a 2-1 game. He homered again in the eighth, with Runnels again on base.

Yankee ace left-hander Whitey Ford found his tender shoulder well-healed and threw a solid four-hitter against the Angels, Ford's first complete game of the season. It kept unblemished the New York record of having never lost to the Angels in Yankee Stadium and pushed the Yanks one game ahead of the surprising Angels.

Angels Tie In 7th
Leon Wagner's single, Bob Bob Rodgers triple and a throwing error by Ford allowed the Angels to tie it 3-3 in the seventh, but the Yanks' went ahead to stay in the next half-inning and put it out of reach with two in the eighth.

Detroit's Aguirre (6-2 struck out 11 in his three-hit masterpiece against Baltimore, didn't permit a runner past second and retired 16 straight men in one stretch.

Detroit got its only run in the first on singles by Bill Bruton and Norm Cash and Rocky Colavito's sacrifice fly.

22,759 See 2nd Annual All-American Grid Tilt

Bob Ferguson, Gabriel Pace East to 13-8 Win Over West

By BOB POWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A timely halftime change in the East's pass defense played a major role in a 13-8 victory over the West in Friday night's second annual All-American Football Bowl.

"We gave them (The West) the long pass and over-loaded against the short, flare-type passes in the flats," Woody Hayes of Ohio State said.

East Broke Scoring Ice
The East broke the scoring ice in the opening stages of the second half after Art Perkins, the West's fullback from North Texas State fumbled and Nick Buoniconti of Notre Dame recovered on the West 43.

In eight plays, under the able direction of Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State, the East went in to score. Bob Ferguson of Ohio State picked up 13 yards in the drive on three carries and Gabriel added 16 in four.

But the breaks reversed themselves before the period was over. On the way for what looked like another scoring drive, the East suddenly found itself trailing after Minnesota end Tom Hall picked off a Gabriel pass on his own 30 and raced through a host of Easterners, including Gabriel, and scored.

Sandy Stephens, another Gopher product, put the West ahead 8-7 on an option sweep with just a fraction over a minute remaining in the period.

East Starts 80-Yard Drive
The next time the East got possession, it started an 80-yard scoring thrust. Gabriel hit Miami's glue-fingered Bill Miller with a 43-yard pass to put the ball on the West 38.

Then the crushing Mr. Ferguson blasted off the left side, reversed his field before some startled West defenders and rumbled for six points. A Gabriel to Davis pass for two more points failed.

Most of the crowd of 22,759 saw a full 60 minutes of thrills, including a last-ditch effort by the West.

With a little over two minutes to go, the West took possession on its own 21 and rolled to the East 10 before the gun sounded.

Ferguson, who gained 99 yards in 18 carries, was voted most valuable player. He had 15 votes to 11 for Gabriel, who completed 12 passes in 18 tries for 143 yards.

Chuck Bryant of Ohio State caught several passes, and his former OSU teammate, Sam Tidmore, was a defensive star.

double each to feature for the Democrats.

The Italian Club had little trouble with the Shaffer Ford aggregation as the winners rolled to its 11 runs in the first three innings.

An eight-run rally in the third inning, sparked by John DelFavero's two-run homer, turned the game into a rout for the Italian Club.

SHAFER'S MANAGED to chalk up its tally on a double by Yarwood and a single by Huffman in the last of the fifth canto. Six errors by the Shaffer nine aided the Italian Club's cause.

DeFavero and Jeffries collected two safeties each for the Italian Club while Larry Ingulide and Paul Paster socked a double each for the winners.

Headland paced the Shaffer attack with two hits.

Castoff Bailey Powers Giants Into Lead; Mets Trip Dodgers

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oh, that Ed Bailey!
The 31-year-old catcher, who found himself dislodged from Cincinnati's pennant-bound express last year, powered San Francisco into first place in the National League Friday night by hitting his third clutch home run in four days for a 4-3 victory over Philadelphia.

Raps 12th Homer

Bailey's shot leading off the 12th inning was his 12th and pushed the San Francisco a half-game up on Los Angeles. The Dodgers, again trading places with the Giants in their two-team struggle, were beaten by the New York Mets 10-4.

Hiltless in 17 previous trips to the plate, Bailey got started on his hot streak Tuesday when he hit a grand-slam homer as a pinch hitter, tying it up for the Giants and enabling them to go on and beat the Reds. Wednesday he tagged a two-run shot in the seventh inning that snapped a 3-3 tie and whipped his former teammates.

He took Thursday off and the Giants lost. Now he's put them back on top. But it took a strange combination to get the job done, the Mets winning their first over the Dodgers with 16 walks and only four hits.

Elsewhere, the pitchers were overpowering. Curt Simmons' seven-hit job gave St. Louis a 5-0 victory over Pittsburgh and a tie for third place with the Pirates. Jim O'Toole's four-hitter for Cincinnati beat Houston 4-0 and the Chicago Cubs blanked Milwaukee 4-0 behind the combined four-hit hurling of Bob Buhl and Don Elston.

O'Dell Goes Distance
Bailey won it for the Giants with a blow off reliever Jack Baldschun (3-5) and ended a stalemate that had existed since the fifth inning. Billy O'Dell (9-6) went the distance for the victory, allowing eight hits and striking out 12.

Joe Moeller (5-5) started for the Dodgers and walked four of the five men he faced, forcing a run home. Ron Perranoski took over, walked three of the next four and the New Yorkers had a 4-0 lead and were on the way to their first triumph over the Dodgers.

CIO 3816, Firemen Win In Hot Stove

Dick Owens and Tracy Bissell combined to hurl CIO 3816 to a 13-3, two-hit victory over Leetonia CIO 4022 in Class E action of the Hot Stove League Friday.

In the only other league encounter, undefeated Fire Department rolled to its eighth straight win by tripping the Eagles 9-7 in a Class G tilt.

CIO 3816 copped its sixth win in seven starts as five players rapped triples in a 12-hit onslaught. The winners poured two runs across the plate in the second canto; one in the third; six in the fourth, and finished up with four in the seventh.

Leetonia managed to tally two in the fifth and one in the sixth. Pacing the winners to victory were Bob King and Dave Thomas with three hits apiece. Dick Barrett and Ken Krause chipped in with two safeties each.

Rick Oxley and Bob Wilson collected the two singles off Owens and Bissell.

After a 2-2 deadlock in the first inning the Eagles took a 5-2 lead in the fourth. The Firemen tied it in the fifth but the Eagles moved ahead again in the last of the fifth, 6-5.

A four-run rally in the sixth canto broke the game open and gave the Firemen a narrow two-run victory.

Chuck Jackson socked two singles to show the way for the Firemen. Lou Markovick chipped in with a double for the Class G league-leaders who now hold a half game edge over National Cleaners.

Val Altomere with a two-run homer in the first inning powered the way for the Eagles. Barry Rhodes socked a double for the losers.

A word from

Old Country Store

I had a very happy experience today. A lady and her daughter were in, they said they were on a shopping trip, they were comparing prices in various food markets and were happy to tell me I have the best prices of all on so many items I am several cents lower and it adds up to real savings. Coming from this fine lady I consider it a real compliment. This was on a Monday when stores regular prices are in effect.
